Most Honorable Son: Film Screening

Minnesota History Center 345 Kellogg Blvd W., St. Paul

Born to Japanese parents in the Midwest, Ben Kuroki graduated from high school in 1936, anticipating a quiet life as a farmer until the bombing of Pearl Harbor drove him to enlist with the U.S. military. Told through rarely seen footage and personal stories from Kuroki and his fellow airmen of the 8th and 20th Army Air Forces, the film begins with his childhood and follows him through a distinguished military career and on to his long-overdue Distinguished Service Medal ceremony in August 2005. Director Bill Kubota will be present for the screening, which honors all veterans with additional live programming elements. This event is co-sponsored by the Japanese American Citizens League.

Phone: 651-259-3000

Thursday, Oct. 15

Shadows and Spirits of the State Capitol

Minnesota State Capitol 75 Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd., St. Paul

These popular annual tours allow visitors to see the Capitol in a historical setting with lighting similar to what existed when the building opened in 1905. As tour groups move through the shadowy and eerily lit rotunda, hallways and chambers, they will meet historical "spirits" including a night watchman, Civil War veteran, a woman suffragist, a dome foreman and an artist who decorated the Supreme Court chamber, who tell stories of the Capitol's early history.

Tours last one hour.

Phone: 651-296-2881

Time: 6:30, 7, 7:30, 8 and 8:30 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 17

Mystery at the Fur Post: Murder in the Museum

North West Company Fur Post 12551 Voyageur Lane, Pine City

Strange events seem to plague the Fur Post this time of year - a werewolf, a missing person, a ghostly bride - and you've always played the part of detective to question and accuse. However, this October all suspicion will fall on you. You are amongst the honored guests to join the Sedgewick family as they donate a priceless family heirloom to the museum. It promises to be a night of conversation, celebration and the tiniest sip of cyanide. It is up to you to prove your innocence by questioning the other suspects and finding the true culprit. RSVP...if you dare.

Phone: 320-629-6356

Time: 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Fee: $8 adults, $6 seniors and college students, $5 children age 6-17; $2 discount for MHS members.

Sunday, Oct. 18

Victorian Ghost Stories

James J. Hill House 240 Summit Ave., St. Paul

Enjoy an evening of Victorian-era ghost tales including "true" ghost stories, some of which took place in Summit Avenue mansions. Costumed actors Craig Johnson, Laura Salvesson and Ann Daly present dramatic readings in the home's dimly lit parlor. The one-hour program includes works by Edgar Allan Poe, Edith Wharton and the Brothers Grimm, as well as lesser-known authors of the period. The program is not recommended for children under age 10. The presentation will be followed by a tour of the Hill House (included in admission) and hot cider will be served.

Phone: 651-297-2555

Exhibits

Minnesota History Center

345 Kellogg Blvd W., St. Paul

- Now open      Minnesota's Greatest Generation: The Depression, The War, The Boom
This exhibit is the capstone of the Minnesota Historical Society's Minnesota's Greatest Generation project. It features more than 6,000 square feet of artifacts, interactive displays, and innovative multimedia experiences to reveal the lives and stories of the men and women who came of age during the Depression and World War II and who went on to create the postwar "boom." The exhibition relies substantially on first-person narratives drawn from oral history interviews, published memoirs, and reminiscences and letters in which a generation of Minnesotans narrates its own story, creating a fascinating collective autobiography in recorded interviews, images, film and audio.
- Ongoing      Going Places: The Mystique of Mobility Travel back through time to celebrate the promise of the new, reflect on the consequences of the past, and debate and dream of ways of moving transportation into the 21st century. "Going Places," part of the Minnesota History Transportation Network, is funded in part by the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (TEA-21) through the U.S. Department of Transportation.
- Ongoing      Grainland/Boxcar Trace the journey of wheat and corn from farm to town to grain elevator. Children can climb through a replica grain elevator where bins and chutes are replaced with steps and slides and curving nooks and crannies can be explored.
- Ongoing      Homeplace Minnesota This 20-minute film presentation uses voices, images and artifacts to address a range of emotions about Minnesota as home. Listen to readings from literary sources including diaries, poetry and memoirs while you view photographs and objects from the Society's collections.
- Ongoing      MN150 This exhibit, developed to celebrate Minnesota's sesquicentennial year, allows visitors to experience 150 people, places and things that helped shape our state. Plus, take the interactive quiz and see how Minnesota-smart you are.
- Ongoing      Open House: If These Walls Could Talk This interactive exhibit uses a single, existing house in the Railroad Island neighborhood on St. Paul's East Side as a window into the daily lives of people of the past. Stories of families, from the German immigrants who built the home through the Italians, African-Americans and Hmong who succeeded them, are told through rooms representing different eras of the house.
- Ongoing      Weather Permitting Minnesotans learn to cope with extreme temperatures, watch for signs of storms and generally enjoy the outdoors, whether boating on a summer's day, skiing down a hill or snowmobiling across snowdrifts. Visit the multi-media tornado exhibit, "Get to the Basement," named the best museum exhibit in the Twin Cities by City Pages.

Mill City Museum

704 South Second St., Minneapolis

Ongoing

Downriver: A Journey of Memory and Recovery View photographs of New Orleans taken before and after Hurricane Katrina by Minnesota photographers Stuart Klipper and Keith Cich. Each artist is presenting eight photographs. Stuart Klipper's photographs were taken prior to Hurricane Katrina, and five of them are accompanied by recent essays by New Orleans-based writers. Keith Cich's photographs were taken as part of a 2008 course on documentary photography at Arts Institutes International Minnesota in Minneapolis. The juxtaposition of these images showcases the unique perspectives of the photographers toward the city of New Orleans. The exhibit is being displayed in conjunction with 1394 Days Later: New Orleans Now, an exhibit at the Hennepin County Central Library featuring the work of other students from the Arts Institute International.

James J. Hill House

240 Summit Ave., St. Paul

Opens Oct. 10

Hazel Thorson Stoick Stoeckeler: A Retrospective Hazel Thorson Stoick Stoeckeler has enjoyed a long and exciting career as an artist, professor at the University of Minnesota and world traveler. This exhibit highlights her 60-year career beginning with pieces from the Society's collection dating to the 1930s and ending with a series of watercolors that document her trips around the globe. These 40 small, exquisite images are accompanied with poems written by Elizabeth Weber and published in a book titled, "Porthole Views of the World."
